

I have been very happy with Indiana's telephone privacy laws the way they stand. Our family time is never interrupted by unsolicited calls any longer. We know that calls to our home are from people we wish to talk to.